Growing up my grandmother used to live with us. She had many medical problems and needed constant physician care. Seeing how doctors made a difference for the better in her life started my journey to pursue a career in medicine and become a doctor.

Nephrology is one of the most diverse fields in Internal Medicine and has intrigued me from the very beginning of my medical education. This field also provides the opportunity for longitudinal care of patients where I am able to build excellent long-term relationships with them, which is very important to me.

I am very passionate to provide the best care that I can by helping my patients successfully navigate through the unique challenges that they face and strive to make a positive impact on their lives.

I feel very blessed to be able to do what I love.
